

See what we do! (Posted July 2018)

Here is a selection of photographs from missions (Pakistan 2014 and 2017, South Sudan 2017) which show you the work of Interplast UK

Our teams are welcomed with open arms:

Screening patients can be a long job, but trusting relationships are established from the start:

Teamwork in the operating theatre:

Operating theatres are busy places but there is still time for a smile and a wave:

Our volunteer medical staff come with us because they care:

Our needy patients live with significant challenges:

Lives are really changed by the skills of our medical teams:

Giving back function to a child's damaged hand – and it helps if teddy has a bandage too!

And finally, our supporters at home love to send us off with gifts and games to help us put our young patients and their families more at ease:

We hope you have enjoyed this insight into our work and will support us by volunteering or fundraising – or both!
